Battery seems to work fine, headlights work, swipers, radio, etc. But when I turn my key three clicks to start, there isn't even a sound that occurs (other than maybe the click from turning). The gear shift is locked in Park. Also when I do turn my key twice to activate battery, it does show up on D5 in the dash.

Acura's hitch costs about $1000 installed at most dealerships. The coolers certainly help the vehicle but a 400 lb trailer is very light. I don't think it would be a warranty issue, since they would have to prove that both the install of the hitch and improper towing is what caused the failure of component X. Realistically, pulling 500 lbs isn't much at all.
